

Truro Cycling Campaign

January 2018

Cycling becomes a real transport option when there is a useful network of safe, convenient routes. Truro Cycling Campaign would like to see the gradual development of a network of routes in Truro – to make cycling around the city easier, and to make connections to the surrounding villages.

Draft Vision Map for Truro Cycle Network

Our Vision Map shows the main cycle connections that we think are needed to make an effective base network. Truro Cycling Campaign will engage with people in and around Truro to refine this vision, and lobby for projects to gradually achieve this network.

Detailed Vision Map for Truro Cycle Network

There may be different options for achieving the main connections shown in the above Vision Map, but the detailed vision map below shows how the network could look.

These maps have been prepared by Truro Cycling Campaign, a group of local volunteers interested in improving facilities for cycling for everyone. At this stage, these maps are a basis for discussion as to how to prioritise which routes would be of most use to enabling more people to cycle in and around Truro.
